

COVID-19

Volunteer Guidance

With the easing of restrictions we are pleased to welcome you back to volunteering!

Your safety is very important to us and to ensure your safe return, we have put in place additional measures to protect staff, volunteers and the wider public.

If you are clinically extremely vulnerable, or clinically vulnerable (over 70, pregnant, or have an underlying health condition) we ask you to follow Government guidance, or if you live with someone who is, please consider their needs before volunteering outside your home:

For those of you who are able to return, it is your decision if you return under the current conditions.

We ask you to consider your own circumstances and health situation to decide if you are willing and able to attend volunteering. If you have any questions about returning, please get in touch.

Please take a moment to familiarise yourself with the new code of conduct below.

For full details read through the Covid-19 volunteer risk assessment. Please keep your safety and the safety of others in mind at all times.

Coronavirus Volunteer Code of Conduct
