

Trustees Seeking Re-election

Peter Sutton

Peter has over 40 years' experience working in environmental science. With a keen interest in plants, animals and ecology from an early age, he went on to study for a degree in Plant Sciences at Cambridge University. During his career he worked as a field trials biologist, multi-discipline project manager and global product development manager, environmental stewardship manager and as an ecological risk assessor. As part of his environmental stewardship role he was responsible for creating projects to enhance farmland landscapes and wildlife biodiversity. Peter is a keen gardener with a wild garden and was recently appointed to the Royal Horticultural Society science committee.

Peter Urquhart

Peter is an experienced finance professional and passionate conservationist. As an accountant he has held roles within various businesses, investment banks and more recently provided financial consultancy services to SME's. His own sustainable property business is well established. More recently holding a Finance Director role within a local community group Peter has led many urban greening projects. He has recently set up his own charity to create and nurture connection to the natural environment within his local community. Peter also enjoys spending time outdoors with his wife and 2 young daughters, mountain biking and is a keen cold-water swimmer.

Adam Wallace

Adam has worked in the Environment sector for over 35 years starting at Peterborough City Council, then for a Wildlife Trust and the National Trust at Wicken Fen. He became a FWAG adviser in Surrey and Hants in the 1990's joining the Countryside Agency in 1999 to work on National Park designations and AONB policy. Since joining Natural England in 2006 he has worked in a number of roles including as a Strategy/Partnership Manager and Area Manager in the South East. His current role is as Natural England's Deputy Director for Landscapes and Protected Sites in England. Adam was a board member on the Surrey Nature Partnership and has lived in Dorking for 30 years.