

Trustees Seeking Election - 2026

John Ball

John Ball brings extensive leadership, governance and financial expertise from a successful international career in professional services, including serving as UK CEO of Willis Towers Watson. He now holds a number of senior non-executive and trustee roles and is passionate about using his experience to support organisations that make a positive difference to people's lives. A family member of Surrey Wildlife Trust for more than 23 years, John has a lifelong love of nature and joined the Trust to help inspire that same passion in his four children. He believes that connecting people with the natural world can improve wellbeing, support mental health and create opportunities for future generations, and is proud to support Surrey Wildlife Trust's work to drive the recovery of wildlife across the county.

Joy Rhoades

Joy Rhoades brings extensive experience in governance, law and leadership, with a career spanning senior roles at the London Stock Exchange Group and JPMorgan, alongside significant charity governance experience as Lead Governance Trustee and Finance Committee member at Citizens Advice Kensington & Chelsea. Passionate about helping organisations achieve their purpose through strong governance and thoughtful decision-making, she is now focusing more of her time on trustee and non-executive roles that align with her personal values. A longstanding advocate for environmental conservation, Joy has supported organisations including the Australian Wildlife Conservancy and ClientEarth for many years and is deeply committed to protecting wildlife and restoring nature. She is delighted to bring her experience, enthusiasm and collaborative approach to help support nature recovery, biodiversity and long-term stewardship in Surrey.
